You'ld be king o' the isle, sirrah?

Prospero

STEPHANO

I should have been a sore one then

ALONSO

look'd on (Pointing to Caliban) This is a strange thing as e'er I

PROSPERO

To have my pardon, trim it handsomely. Take with you your companions; as you look As in his shape. (To Caliban) Go, sirrah, to my cell; He is as disproportion'd in his manners

CALIBAN

And worship this dull fool! Was I, to take this drunkard for a god And seek for grace. What a thrice-double ass Ay, that I will; and I'll be wise hereafter

PROSPERO

Go to; away!

ALONSO

luggage where you found it. (to Stephano and Trinculo) Hence, and bestow your

Or stole it, rather

(Exit Caliban, Stephano, and Trinculo)

PROSPERO

The Tempest

And the particular accidents gone by Go quick away; the story of my life For this one night; which, part of it, I'll waste And thence retire me to my Milan, where Of these our dear-beloved solemnized; Where I have hope to see the nuptial I'll bring you to your ship and so to Naples, Since I came to this isle: and in the morn With such discourse as, I not doubt, shall make it To my poor cell, where you shall take your rest Sir, I invite your highness and your train Every third thought shall be my grave.

ALONSO

Take the ear strangely. To hear the story of your life, which must

PROSPERO

I'll deliver all

That is thy charge: then to the elements Your royal fleet far off. [Aside to Ariel] My Ariel, chick, And sail so expeditious that shall catch And promise you calm seas, auspicious gales (Exeunt)Be free, and fare thou well! Please you, draw near

Prospero

Mark but the badges of these men, my lords, Then say if they be true. This mis-shapen knave, His mother was a witch, and one so strong That could control the moon, make flows and ebbs, And deal in her command without her power. These three have robb'd me; and this demi-devil—For he's a bastard one—had plotted with them To take my life. Two of these fellows you Must know and own; this thing of darkness I Acknowledge mine.

Caliban

I shall be pinch'd to death.

ALONSO

Is not this Stephano, my drunken butler?

SEBASTIAN

He is drunk now: where had he wine?

ALONSO

And Trinculo is reeling ripe: where should they Find this grand liquor that hath gilded 'em? (To Trinculo) How camest thou in this pickle?

TRINCULO

I have been in such a pickle since I saw you last that, I fear me, will never out of my bones: I shall not fear fly-blowing.

SEBASTIAN

Why, how now, Stephano!

STEPHANO

O, touch me not; I am not Stephano, but a cramp.

V.1

The Tempest

And think of each thing well. [Aside to ARIEL] Come hither, spirit:

Set Caliban and his companions free;

Until the spell.

(Exit Ariel)

How fares my gracious sir?

There are yet missing of your company

Some few odd lads that you remember not.

(Re-enter Ariel, driving in Caliban, Stephano and Trinculo, in their stolen apparel)

STEPHANO

Every man shift for all the rest, and let no man take care for himself; for all is but fortune. Coragio, bully-monster, coragio!

Trinculo

If these be true spies which I wear in my head, here's a goodly sight.

CALIBAN

O Setebos, these be brave spirits indeed! How fine my master is! I am afraid He will chastise me.

SEBASTIAN

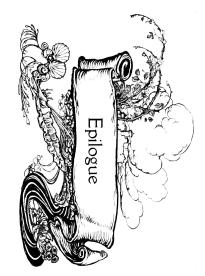

Ha, ha!

What things are these, my lord Antonio? Will money buy 'em?

Antonio

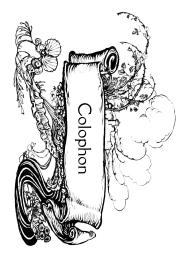

Very like; one of them

Is a plain fish, and, no doubt, marketable.

PROSPERO

Spirits to enforce, art to enchant, And what strength I have's mine own, Let your indulgence set me free As you from crimes would pardon'd be, Mercy itself and frees all faults. And my ending is despair, Which was to please. Now I want Must fill, or else my project fails, Gentle breath of yours my sails With the help of your good hands But release me from my bands In this bare island by your spell; And pardon'd the deceiver, dwell Since I have my dukedom got Or sent to Naples. Let me not, Which is most faint: now, 'tis true, Now my charms are all o'erthrown, Which pierces so that it assaults Unless I be relieved by prayer, I must be here confined by you,

The Tempest was probably written in 1610 or 1611, not long before William Shakespeare (1564–1616) retired from the stage and returned to his native Stratford-upon-Avon. It was first published by William Jaggard in London, in 1623, as part of Mr. William Shakespeare's Comedies, Histories, & Tragedies; Published according to the True and Original Copies: the so-called 'First Folio'.

Illustrations by Arthur Rackham (1867–1939) are from a 1926 edition published by William Heinemann Ltd. in London (UK) and by Doubleday, Page & Co. in New York City (USA).

V.1 The Tempest

BOATSWAIN

If I did think, sir, I were well awake,
I'ld strive to tell you. We were dead of sleep,
And—how we know not—all clapp'd under hatches;
Where but even now with strange and several noises
Of roaring, shrieking, howling, jingling chains,
And more diversity of sounds, all horrible,
We were awaked; straightway, at liberty;
Where we, in all her trim, freshly beheld
Our royal, good and gallant ship, our master
Capering to eye her: on a trice, so please you,
Even in a dream, were we divided from them
And were brought moping hither.

ARIEL

 $[Aside\ to\ Prospero]$

Was't well done?

Prospero

[Aside to ARIEL] Bravely, my diligence. Thou shalt be free.

ALONSO

This is as strange a maze as e'er men trod And there is in this business more than nature Was ever conduct of: some oracle Must rectify our knowledge.

Prospero

Sir, my liege

Do not infest your mind with beating on The strangeness of this business; at pick'd leisure Which shall be shortly, single I'll resolve you, Which to you shall seem probable, of every These happen'd accidents; till when, be cheerful

The Tempest V.1

ALONSO

(To FERDINAND and MIRANDA)Give me your hands: Let grief and sorrow still embrace his heart That doth not wish you joy!

GONZALO

Be it so! Amen!

(Re-enter Ariel, with the Master and Boatswain amazedly following)
O, look, sir, look, sir! here is more of us:
I prophesied, if a gallows were on land,

I prophesied, if a gallows were on land, This fellow could not drown. Now, blasphemy, That swear'st grace o'erboard, not an oath on shore? Hast thou no mouth by land? What is the news?

BOATSWAIN

The best news is, that we have safely found Our king and company; the next, our ship—Which, but three glasses since, we gave out split—Is tight and yare and bravely rigg'd as when We first put out to sea.

ARIEL

[Aside to Prospero] Sir, all this service Have I done since I went.

Prospero

[Aside to Ariel] My tricksy spirit!

ALONSO

These are not natural events; they strengthen From strange to stranger. Say, how came you hither?

But never saw before; of whom I have Received a second life; and second father This lady makes him to me.

ALONSO

I am hers:

But, O, how oddly will it sound that I Must ask my child forgiveness!

Prospero

There, sir, stop:

Let us not burthen our remembrance with A heaviness that's gone.

GONZALO

I have inly wept,

Or should have spoke ere this. Look down, you god, And on this couple drop a blessèd crown! For it is you that have chalk'd forth the way Which brought us hither.

ALONSO

I say, 'Amen,' Gonzalo!

GONZALO

Was Milan thrust from Milan, that his issue Should become kings of Naples? O, rejoice Beyond a common joy, and set it down With gold on lasting pillars: In one voyage Did Claribel her husband find at Tunis, And Ferdinand, her brother, found a wife Where he himself was lost, Prospero his dukedom In a poor isle and all of us ourselves When no man was his own.
